University of St. Thomas to host Summer Volleyball Camps

WHAT: The University of St. Thomas will host two Lady Celts Volleyball summer camps for high school and middle school students.

WHERE: University of St. Thomas
Jerabeck Athletic Center, 4000 Mt. Vernon

WHEN: July 30 – August 3, 2007

BACKGROUND:

Sessions will be broken up into two parts: the All Skills Camp for grades 4th through 8th, and the Advanced Camp for grades 9th -12th.

The All Skills Camp is designed for beginner players and will teach basic volleyball skills such as serving, serve receive, forearm passing, setting, attacking and blocking. The Advanced Camp is aimed at high school players and is tailored to teaching more advanced techniques to the players.

These UST camps provide an environment that is positive and enjoyable which will aid in the success of the volleyball players. All volleyball sessions include a 2007 camp T-shirt, certificate of participation and awards for special performances. UST head volleyball coach, Jill Reynolds, and the Celts volleyball team will lead both sessions. Brochures and registration forms can be found at the University website under sports and athletics.

Registration deadline is July 1, 2007.

COST: The camps are $150 per person. A $50 deposit is required with application.
