Center for Faith and Culture Holds 4th Annual Spirituality Seminar: Identity Theft – The Challenge for Catholic Americans

WHAT: Fourth Annual Spirituality Seminar on "Identity Theft: The Challenge for Catholic Americans.

WHO: Sponsored by the University of St. Thomas Center for Faith and Culture

WHEN: 8:30a.m.-noon Monday-Thursday, June 11-15

WHERE: St. Mary's Seminary, Nold Education Center, Classroom 204, 9845 Memorial Dr.

BACKGROUND: Presenters will be Rev. Binh The Quach, CSSp, Ph.D., Spiritan Group-Taiwan, ROC; Rev. Donald Nesti, CSSp, director, Center for Faith and Culture, professor of theology, University of St. Thomas; Maureen N. Bacchi, LMSW, spiritual director and psychotherapist.

This conference on "Identify Theft: The Challenge for Catholic Americans" will explore the questions: Do we know who we are? Who is telling us who we are? How do we hold on to who we are amidst the cultural forces that draw us away from our true identity as Children of God…and all that which god created us to be?

The Center for Faith & Culture seeks to understand and affect the relationship between the worldview of Catholic faith and culture. In fulfilling this mission, the Center gives special emphasis to the formation of community leadership that will be capable of integrating faith and culture through ongoing reflection and action. The Center ascribes to the belief that holistic spiritual growth is the very core of all cultural development. This growth constitutes an essential dimension of the Center's work.

COST: Registration is $185 per person by May 31; $200 after May 31.
