UST Champions Club

Mission Statement

The Champions Club seeks to strengthen the University of St. Thomas intercollegiate program by enriching the student-athlete's experience. Club members provide financial support for the intercollegiate athletics program, encourage student-athletes, and promote community awareness about the University.

UST Athletics

In 2006, the University of St. Thomas returned to intercollegiate athletics with the start of Women's Volleyball. After one season as the lone varsity sport on campus, the Lady Celts were joined by Men's Soccer. The University will continue to expand by adding Men's Basketball in 2009. The Celts are proud members of the National Association of Intercollegiate Athletics and compete on the national level as a member of the NAIA Association of Independent Institutions.

In May of 2006, the University celebrated the opening of the Hackett Athletic Complex. It was the first step toward establishing a soccer program. The success of our teams and student-athletes will be heavily influenced by the support received from the St. Thomas and Houston communities. Now you can help support our program by becoming a Champions Club member!

Champions Club

Don't just watch the team, be a part of the team! The Champions Club invites participation by alumni and friends who want to be a part of intercollegiate athletics at the University of St. Thomas. Every gift and contribution is greatly appreciated and will be dedicated toward the advancement of UST Athletics. Your support will go directly toward improving our student-athletes' experience at St. Thomas.

Founding Members

We would like to offer our appreciation to the people who helped restart athletics at the University of St. Thomas. The contributions of the founding members have already positively impacted the lives of UST's student-athletes.

Corporate Sponsorship

There are many corporate programs for supporting UST athletics that can be tailored to your company's needs. As a UST athletic sponsor your company will receive positive exposure in the University and Houston communities. If you are interested in becoming a corporate sponsor please contact the Athletic department at 713-831-7214 or via email; tsmith1@stthom.edu.
