Here is the line-up of speakers for 2013-2014:

September 13: Dr. R. Edward Houser, Bishop Wendelin J. Nold Chair in Graduate Philosophy, UST on "Avicenna on the Transcendentals"

September 23: Dr. Nicholas J. Healy, Jr., John Paul II Institute for Studies on Marriage and Family on "Fides et Ratio and the Debate Over ‘Christian Philosophy’"

October 4: Dr. John Deely, Rudman Chair of Graduate Philosophy, UST on "Is there a Specifically Thomistic Definition of Human Being?"

November 1: Dr. Mark Kulstad, Professor of Philosophy, Rice University on "Questions concerning Leibniz's Expression Thesis"

November 8: Dr. Mark D. Gossiaux, Assoc. Professor of Philosophy, Loyola University, New Orleans on "Giles of Rome, Thomas Aquinas, and the Reification of Esse"

November 15: Dr. John F.X. Knasas, Professor of Philosophy, UST on "The Intellectual Phenomenology of De Ente et Essentia, Ch. 4: Part One"

November 22: Dr. Helen Hattab, Associate Professor of Philosophy, University of Houston on "Re/reading Aristotle: Zabarella and late 16th Century Jesuits on Substantial Change"

December 6: Dr. Luca Oliva, Visiting Professor, Department of Cultural Studies, University of Houston on "Kant's Mereology"

January 31: Dr. Marc D. Guerra, Associate Professor of Theology, Assumption College on "Manent and the Theologico-Political Import of Augustine's Two Cities"

February 7: Dr. John F.X. Knasas, Professor of Philosophy, UST on "The Intellectual Phenomenology of De Ente et Essentia, Ch. 4: Part Two"

February 14: Dr. John Froula, Visiting Assistant Professor of Theology, UST on "Always or for the Most Part? Thomism and Natural Determinism"

February 28: Dr. Robert C. Koons, Professor of Philosophy, University of Texas at Austin on "Recent Analytic Accounts of Hylomorphism: A Critique and a New Proposal"

March 7: John Macias, Graduate Student at the Center for Thomistic Studies, UST on "John Finnis and Alasdair MacIntyre on Knowledge of Natural Law"

March 21: Dr. Steven Crowell, Joseph and Joanna Nazro Mullen Professor of Philosophy, Rice University on "We Have Never Been Animals: Heidegger's Posthumanism"

March 28: Dr. Jeremy Neill, Assistant Professor of Philosophy, Houston Baptist University on "Political Appropriations and Religious Worldviews: A Productive Accommodation?"

April 4: John Boyer, Graduate Student at the Center for Thomistic Studies, UST on "From Effects to Causes: A Posteriori Scientific Methodology in Posterior Analytics 2.8-10"

April 25: Nelson Ramirez, Graduate Student at the Center for Thomistic Studies, UST on "Does Aquinas Teach in De veritate 1.4 that Truth is a Form Inherent in Things? In Dialogue with Fr. Lawrence Dewan"