Historical Note

The University's student newspaper acts as a medium through which news, activities, and ideas of interest to the whole campus are published. It also provides an opportunity for expressing opinions concerning current problems on a campus-wide scale through its column, Letters to the Editor. It is published throughout the school year by a staff composed of students with a faculty advisor.

The first newspaper from 1947-48 was called The Bluebonnet. From 1948-50, it was given the name University of St. Thomas. Then in 1950-64 it was called Vision; in 1964-69 The Paper. From 1970-2008 it was The Cauldron. In 2008 it became The Summa (which is not to be confused with the name of the former yearbooks).
