COVID GUIDELINES

Dear Celts,

The past year has been full of challenges, but together we have risen to meet them head on. Your steadfast efforts to observe UST’s safety policies are greatly appreciated, and they have helped keep our community safe. As COVID cases continue to drop, it now appears that the worst is behind us.

With the conclusion of the spring semester, UST is now reviewing all current COVID policies in preparation for the fall. Until new policies are established, current COVID policies are being suspended and all Celts should observe the following general guidelines throughout the remainder of the summer:

• We ask that each person continue to perform a self-evaluation before visiting campus
• Temperature checks and wristbands are no longer required when arriving on campus
• The wearing of masks is no longer required for people who are fully vaccinated
• Classes should continue to follow distancing guidelines, maintaining 6 feet of space

Although pandemic conditions have improved greatly, each of us must continue to do our part to help stop the spread. If you have any questions about these interim guidelines, please reach out to stayhealthy@stthom.edu

Sincerely,

H.E. Jenkins
